1 What are the eligibility requirements?

To be eligible for the California's Low Cost Auto Insurance Program, or CLCA, consumers must:

- Have a valid California driver's license
- Own a vehicle valued at $25,000 or less
- Meet income eligibility guidelines
- Be at least 19 years of age

2 What are the eligibility requirements?

These are the maximum income levels by household size for eligibility:

- 1 person – $30,150
- 2 people – $40,600
- 3 people – $51,050
- 4 people – $61,500

A household is defined as all persons listed on a federal or state income tax form.

3 Do I have to prove my income to apply?

Yes. The program will accept any one of the following documents as proof of household income:

PROGRAM	DOCUMENT REQUIRED

4 What coverage does California Low Cost Automobile insurance policy provide?

The program provides affordable, liability-only auto insurance that meets the state's financial responsibility laws.

Basic Liability Policy limits are:

- $10,000 bodily injury or death per person
- $20,000 bodily injury or death per accident
- $3,000 property damage liability per accident

For an additional charge of $21-$68 per year, consumers can add:

- $1,000 medical payments per person
- $10,000 uninsured motorist bodily injury per person
- $20,000 uninsured motorist bodily injury per accident

The program does not offer comprehensive or collision coverage (coverage that will repair the driver's own vehicle after an accident) but this coverage can be purchased from an insurance agent.

Questions

Answers

5 What are the costs for a CLCA policy?

The annual premiums in California vary by county, ranging from $252 to $611. There are discounts if the consumer has been a licensed driver for 3 years with a good driving record.

A good driving record is defined as:

- No more than one at-fault property damage-only accident or no more than one point for a moving violation within the past three years;
- No at-fault accidents involving bodily injury or death on a driving record within the previous three years
- No felony or misdemeanor convictions for a violation of the Vehicle Code on a motor vehicle driving record.

7 What are the penalties for not having auto insurance?

If you are cited for not having auto insurance at the time of a moving violation or accident, there are penalties that include fines and possible vehicle registration suspension.

For more information regarding penalties for not having auto insurance, please visit the California DMV website at <http://chilp.it/9a5b9c2> (this url will take you directly to view VC Section 16029)

8 How many vehicles can be on the CLCA policy?

Every qualified consumer is allowed up to two low cost policies under the program guidelines. If there are two qualified consumers in the household, each can have up to two policies for a total of up to four per household.

For example, an individual can have a maximum of two vehicles in this program and a married couple could have a maximum of 4 vehicles, if each vehicle is registered in their respective names.

9 Why do all vehicles in the household need to be added to CLCA?

The program requires that all vehicles in the household be insured in the program. Consumers may not have liability coverage through any other policy for other vehicles in the household.

A household is defined as all persons listed on a federal or state income tax form.

10 Can I get coverage through a CLCA policy if I have a vehicle loan?

Yes, but you should check with your lender to determine if the coverage limits provided by the program will meet the requirements of your loan.
